Dear Friend:

A very special evening awaits you on Wednesday, June 21, and I truly hope you can be there.

After leaving Congress I was honored to join the Board of Directors of Virginia's premier center-right public policy foundation, the Thomas Jefferson Institute. Its work in Virginia and the impact it is having is impressive and I've always supported its pivotal work. Many of its ideas for improving public policy in Virginia have been implemented and its influence continues to increase.

On June 21, The Thomas Jefferson Institute is hosting its "Commonwealth Leadership Dinner" featuring a "Special Discussion with Senator John McCain" at The Willard Hotel, in Washington DC.

This is not your typical fundraising event, but something a little different. Following a reception and during dinner, former Under Secretary of State for Democracy and Global Affairs, Paula Dobriansky, will discuss with our special guest Senator John McCain the challenges our country faces around the world. As Chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Senator McCain is in a unique position to grasp these challenges and to offer suggestions on how to confront them.

You will be able to join this discussion in a relaxed environment conducive to a serious dialogue.

Funds raised at this dinner will be used to continue the important work of the Thomas Jefferson Institute. You can review its activities on its website: thomasjeffersoninst.org

Please join me in supporting the vital public policy work being done by the Thomas Jefferson Institute by joining us at this dinner as a Signature Event Host ($10,000), Signature Event Co-Host ($5,000), Benefactor ($2,500) or Sponsor ($1,000). Tickets to this special evening are just $350 per person.

The "Commonwealth Leadership Dinner" will be our inaugural fundraising dinner and public policy discussion for the Thomas Jefferson Institute. Your support of this dinner and discussion will help the Institute continue the vital work it has done providing important policy studies, conferences and seminars to help guide and inform our elected officials.

Please mark your calendar and plan to attend. You will enjoy this special evening.

Sincerely,

Congressman Tom Davis

Th. Jefferson

The mission of the Thomas Jefferson Institute for Public Policy is to provide Virginia's political, business, academic, community and media leadership with thoughtful, realistic, useful and non-partisan analysis of public policy issues confronting our Commonwealth.

These alternative policy ideas focus on state and local issues and are based on the Institute's belief in free markets, limited government and individual responsibility. The general areas of interest for this Institute are reforming government, economic development, improving health.

The "Commonwealth Leadership Dinner" will be our inaugural fundraising dinner and public policy discussion for the Thomas Jefferson Institute. Your support of this dinner and discussion will help the Institute continue the vital work it has done providing important policy studies, conferences and seminars to help guide and inform our elected officials.

Thomas Jefferson Institute for Public Policy

Why you should support the Thomas Jefferson Institute for Public Policy...

"The Jefferson Institute is Virginia's version of the American Enterprise Institute and the Heritage Foundation. It is "Virginia's Solutions Tank" offering better market-oriented ideas to current government programs and policies.... among the best idea generators in our state are the free market advocates at the Thomas Jefferson Institute for Public Policy."

~ Former Governor Bob McDonnell

"Today, the Thomas Jefferson Institute is the premier independent public policy foundation in our state.... The Jefferson Institute leads the way in providing workable ideas for Virginia legislators who believe in limited government, free enterprise and personal responsibility."

~ Former Lt. Governor Bill Bolling

"I enjoy working with the Jefferson Institute. It leads the way in providing workable ideas for Virginia's elected officials, business leaders and grass roots activists. It is truly an "ideas factory," providing alternatives to the usual liberal policies of higher taxes and more government."

~ Former Attorney General Ken Cuccinelli

"...I want to thank you for the ideas and suggestions that have come from the Thomas Jefferson Institute... Your work with my administration in the area of bringing better business practices to state government has been valuable. As you and I found in the private sector, there is always room for better ideas and more efficient practices."

~ Former Governor/now U.S. Senator Mark Warner

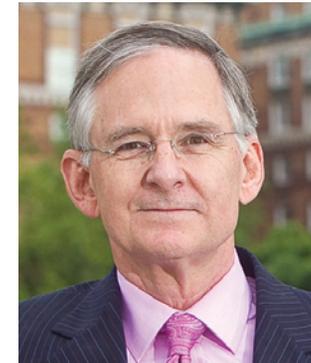

"The creative work of the Jefferson Institute helps light the way for creative government policies, better public education, a more smoothly functioning transportation system, and long-term economic growth. This feisty and creative foundation is the best non-partisan organization of its type here in Virginia.... This foundation does much more than merely write and publish studies. It is working "on the ground" with our leaders to bring new ideas to reality."

~ Former Senator and Governor George Allen

"The Thomas Jefferson Institute's work is right up there at the top. We use them. I use them to explore new ideas about how to make government work better."

~ Speaker of the House William Howell

"... the Thomas Jefferson Institute has been tremendously helpful. The number of recommendations that you have made and the resources that you provide to those of us in the legislature your guidance has proven to be very, very helpful. I would say to all of you who are supportive of Thomas Jefferson Institute, that it is a very fine investment, and the dividends have been enormous to those of us who have the privilege of serving in the legislative body."

~ Senator Tommy Norment, Senate Majority Leader

"The Jefferson Institute is the one creative group of experts I rely on to come up with better ideas on everything from building schools with public private partnerships to reforming the way the state spends taxpayers' money. It is truly indispensable to those of us in the General Assembly."

~ Delegate Dave Albo,
Chairman of the House Courts of Justice Committee
